Mission Statement of Religious Studies Department:

Vision:

The vision of the Department of Religious Studies is to be recognized as the best example of faith, service, respect, and interfaith harmony in Pakistan.

Mission:

The Department of Religious Studies is committed to offer students opportunities for in-depth understanding of religion, moral development, community service, and spiritual enlightenment in their quest for understanding the ultimate questions of life.

The Major in Christian Studies effectively prepares graduates for entry into any Christian post-graduate program. Majors who have also minored in biblical language will be prepared to begin Christian post-graduate education on an advanced level on any continent.

A major in Christian studies does not prepare graduates to go directly into fulltime Christian ministry. However, students who complete this major will have skills in properly interpreting the Scriptures and applying these insights from Scripture to their personal lives and the Christian Community. This skill is important to all who are actively committed to ministry in any context. In addition, the Department of Religious Studies has designed this major to sharpen the critical thinking ability of our students, enabling them to examine the way they and others think, evaluating both evidence and statements of truth.

Of course, since this is a program of Forman Christian College, the graduates of the Christian Studies Program are learning to live out the motto of their beloved university, “By Love, Serve One Another”,

Finally, this program seeks to give graduates a love for the Bible, both Old and New Testaments and give them a passion in helping others in their community to share that same love.
